Good morning,

Nice to electronically meet you all. The draft outcome/chair summary documents mentioned in the notes from a couple weeks ago has not been posted yet nor has the Mission received anything on this. However, I'll reach out to some contacts this morning to see if there is any kind of preview available.

Looking forward to speaking with you all later today.

Regards,

Megan

Thanks, Marianne! I've not seen a draft and understand that they may be moving towards more of a "chair's summary" format.

Megan, did the Mission receive anything?

I'll send a calendar invite for tomorrow's call as soon as I hear back from USAID.

Thanks again,
Maya

Thanks Maya, and nice to meet you virtually Megan. The notes reference the draft outcome document that was shared. Could we please see that rather urgently? We are increasingly concerned about some of the policy issues reflected in the agenda.

A call tomorrow morning would be great.

Subject: Follow-up and Introduction - WHO Air Pollution and Health Conference

Dear Ted,

Great to speak with you, Marianne, and Brianna yesterday afternoon. I've attached the notes and screen shots from the Air Pollution Conference briefing shared by the US Mission, the current US delegation list, and information on the agenda.

On the delegation list, could you please confirm Amanda Curry-Brown's title and office, and verify the rest of the EPA information is correct?

By way of this email, I'd also like to introduce you to Megan McPhee, she's a recently arrived ESTH Officer with the US Mission to the UN in Geneva. Megan will be representing State Department during the conference and helping to coordinate on the Geneva side and liaise with WHO as needed.

Megan – as I mentioned, Ted and his EPA colleagues in the Office of International and Tribal Affairs, are representing EPA and leading prep for PDAA Jane Nishida's participation (and role as head of delegation) in the conference. Ted is also on the delegation.

Would a call tomorrow morning (10/3) between 8:30am and 11:30am ET with Megan and USAID to discuss day three and any possible "commitments" or work we'd like to highlight from the USG perspective be convenient for you?

We should also determine a good time for a full delegation call next week or early the following.

Many thanks,
Maya
